

How to make a wormery

You will need:

Newspaper

sand

leaves

Garden soil

water

Vegetable peelings

Large plastic bottle

compost

Sellotape

card (cut up a cereal box)

Scissors

A few worms! tape

Step 1

ask a grown up to help you cut the top off the plastic bottle and make small holes in the bottom.

Step 2

Add layers of sand, compost and soil. Pour in a little water to dampen. Carefully place some worms then scatter leaves and vegetable peelings on the top.

Step 3

cut out a circle from some card and tape it to the top of the bottle. Keep your bottle in a cool dark place for a about a week. Then take a look. What has happened to the vegetable peelings? Have the worms made any patterns?

Share a photograph of your wormery on Evidence me or email