

Extreme Reading!!! - It's that time of year again!

To coincide with Book Week [beginning on the 27th Feb] we are looking for the most creative and imaginative 'extreme reader' in our school! All you have to do is choose a favourite book and get an adult to help you find the silliest, funniest and most imaginative place to read it [remember it has to be a safe place, too!] and get someone else to take a photo of you [if they can stop laughing for long enough!]

Bring your photo into school where we can display them for everyone to see!

Why not get other family members involved too? Maybe Grandma in the garden or Dad in the dustbin!

Have fun!! [and for an extra challenge see if you can actually read your book in your 'extreme' place!]

....there might even be a prize for the most creative idea! HAPPY 'EXTREME' READING!
